Hibernians and Ladies of the Auxiliary Held State Convention.

George J. Butler Re-elected as Head of Order in This State.

Ladies Chose New Officers to Guide Their Ship of State.

RESOLUTIONS WERE IMPORTANT

The Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. H. of Kentucky held their respective State conventions in Louisville last Monday and

GEORGE J. BUTLER,
State President Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Tuesday, and the gatherings of sons and daughters of Erin were successful socially and from a business point of view. The new State officers for the Hibernians are:

Chaplain—Right Rev. C. P. Macs, of Covington, re-elected.

President—George J. Butler, Louisville, re-elected.

Vice President—James B. Dempsey, Paris, re-elected.

Secretary—William J. Connelly, Louisville.

Treasurer—Thomas B. Howard, Ashland.

All the business sessions of both bodies were held at the Galt House, and the ladies assembled with the gentlemen in a spacious parlor when State President George J. Butler called the convention to order at 9 o'clock. The Rev. Father C. F. Christmas, O. P., opened the meeting with prayer.

County President John A. Murphy delivered the address of welcome. It was brief and to the point. He said: "Brother and sister Hibernians and visiting delegates, it affords me great pleasure at this time on behalf of the officers and members of the order in Jefferson county to wish you a most hearty welcome to our city. Our bars are down and our gates opened to you, and we, the members of this order, feel that nothing is too good for you. With loving hearts and cheerful hand we extend a most hearty welcome. It is our earnest desire that all of you enjoy a most pleasant time while in our city."

The convention hall had been tastefully festooned with the flag of Erin and the Stars and Stripes of America. State President Butler named the Recording Secretaries of the various divisions as members of the Credentials Committee. A brief recess was taken to allow the committee to make its report. State President Butler read his report showing the standing of the organization in Kentucky and reviewing the work of the past two years. He also made several suggestions for the future, advocated the study of Irish history in the schools and the continuance of literary exercises. President Butler said that by persistent effort on the part of the Hibernians and the Ladies' Auxiliary the question of having Irish history taught could be made as effective here as in the State of Massachusetts. He also advocated the formation of other companies to further an interest in Irish affairs among the boys, and urged the members to attend every meeting of their divisions, and asked that each one make an effort to bring in at least one new member each year. The State President also had kind words for the Ladies' Auxiliary and urged Hibernians to give that body their hearty support. At this point the ladies retired to a separate hall to begin their deliberations alone.

State President Butler announced the following committees:

Rules—Con J. Ford, Phillip Donnelly, Michael Purcell, A. J. Patterson and P. J. Kane.

Resolutions—John A. Murphy, George Doyle, Thomas Howard, John Barton and John H. Collins.

Grievances—John M. Mulroy, Joseph Broderick, John Callery, P. H. Howard, Jr., and Joseph Higgins.

Finances—William J. Connolly, L. C. Murphy, John Seery, David Hickey and Thomas Boneh.

Press—John J. Barry, John Tierney, E. J. Cavanaugh, James and James Tierney.

OUR MARY

Asked and Received a Blessing From Cardinal Gibbons.

Madame Mary Anderson Navarro was received and given a special blessing last Friday at Norfolk House, near London, England. After the great mass meeting at Albert Hall, London, on Thursday night, a strange lady pressed her way through the throng and asked Cardinal Gibbons for his blessing. He asked her who she was. To his delight she answered: "I am Mary Anderson, Madame Navarro." Cardinal Gibbons invited her to visit him at Norfolk House the next day. She accepted the invitation, received his blessing and was commended for her blameless life.

Mary Anderson, "Our Mary," as we call her in Louisville, is a graduate of Presentation Academy, and has always been a devout Catholic. During her long career on the stage she attended mass every morning. All of this Cardinal Gibbons knew, and he knew likewise that she was a Southern girl and a Kentuckian.

ROUTINE AT MACKIN

Mackin Council held a strictly routine meeting Tuesday night with President Robert T. Burke presiding.

One application was received and six new members were elected. It was decided to postpone the big initiation until October 7. D. J. Hammill reported that the open meeting to be held at St. Boniface's Hall, reported that the meeting was in readiness for Thursday night, September 17. The speakers, it was announced, would be the Very Rev. Father Richard Wurth, O. F. M., Edward Neelus, Attorney Newton G. Rogers and Judge Patrick T. Sull-

Mayor Grinstead's reform administration continues to have troubles. They crop up over night like mushrooms, but they are as poisonous as stools to Republican security and success this fall and next. Criticism over the proposed raise of the Mayor's secret service fund from $1,000 to $2,500 developed that the General Council had failed to provide revenue for the public schools. Next day came the announcement that W. R. Harris, who had passed an examination of $4,15 out of possible 100 in the race for City Engineer, was to be succeeded by John B. Chambers, the present Building Inspector, whose average was 90.8 per cent.

County President J. A. Barton said he was glad the friendships formed at Paris two years ago were being continued. County President George P. Doyle, of Paris, made a brief speech along similar lines, after which the delegates adjourned for their noon luncheon.

The convention assembled for its afternoon session with all the delegates present. The Committee on Rules, through Chairman Con J. Ford, recommended that the rules of the last State convention be adopted. The recommendation was concurred in. L. C. Murphy, of Kenton county, was appointed assistant secretary of the convention.

County President John A. Murphy, of Louisville, reported for the Committee on Resolutions. The committee recommended the absolute necessity

GRAND REUNION

When St. Michael's Church Celebrates Approach- ing Anniversary.

The pastor and clergy of St. Michael's church, Brook street, will celebrate the forty-second anniversary of that church on Sunday, September 27. On that day the services will be of the highest order and keeping with the past traditions of the church. The first mass will be at 7:30 o'clock. The late mass will be at noon, and the sermon will be preached by a well known priest of the diocese.

Preparatory to the late mass there will be a solemn procession of the children of the parochial school and of the societies of the church. A new feature will be added to the solemnity of the occasion by the assistance of the Concordia Singing Society. Father Martin O'Connor, the beloved pastor, is urging his people to make it a great family reunion, and to call together former parishioners from all parts of the city. On Monday, September 28, there will be a solemn high mass of requiem at 8 o'clock for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the congregation.

During the past thirty months Father O'Connor, aided by the generosity of his people, has reduced the debt on the church by $3,665.60. This with the improvements on the church and parsonage residence speaks well for St. Michael's congregation. The Sunday anniversary celebration will close with vespers and benediction at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

FEDERATION

Of Jefferson County Has Got Down to Hard Work.

The Jefferson County Federation of Catholic Societies met at Bertram's Hall on Thursday night of last week with a comparatively full representation of societies in attendance, and President Newton G. Rogers presiding. The Library Committee made a report which was discussed and approved.

President Rogers appointed Messrs.

Fitzgibbon, Score and Connelly to committees to procure Rev. Father

Clark, O. P., to deliver an address before the Federation at its October meeting. Messrs. Hillerich and Cooney, delegates in charge of the open meeting to be held at St. Boni-face's Hall, reported that the meeting was in readiness for Thursday night,

September 17. The speakers, it was announced, would be the Very Rev.

van. Drs. P. S. Ganz and Ben J. Lammers, delegates to the recent national convention in Boston, will give detailed reports of their experiences. The report of the committee was approved.

The matter of holding other open meetings during the fall and winter was discussed but not definitely decided upon. Dr. Ganz made a very interesting report of the National Federation in Boston.

Receptions Planned For Irish Envoy in Boston and New York.

National Convention of United Irish League Comes Next Week.

People of Ireland Show Their Sympathy For the Irish Party.

ELABORATE PLANS ARE MADE

The convention of the Irish League in America, which is to be held in Boston next week, promises to bring together some of the most noted men of Great Britain and Ireland. The principal centers in America will be Dublin, Belfast, Liverpool, and New York.

By the way, it is rumored that the city officials and employees are being assessed to help the Taft campaign fund. That is not for reform government. Last Monday a big negro street cleaner at Fifth and Market streets wore a $5 bill pinned to the breast of his tan jacket. To people who asked why he did it he replied: "That is my Taft badge." Now the public wonders whether he meant that it was given him to keep him in line for Taft, or whether it was his contribution to the fund for Taft being raised by city officials and employees.

What will the reform ministers of Louisville think when they learn that J. M. Butler, in requesting a license to operate a saloon at 636 West Green street, presented a letter of recommendation from Richard W. Kibbey, editor of the Louisville Evening Post. The saloon is one of the most notorious dives in the 13th Light district. Aided by the editor of the Post, Mr. Butler got his license.

Did you see the police parade Monday? Did you notice the grotesque caps and dress coats? All that is necessary to equip Col. Hainger's force are wooden shoes, and after that they can shout in chorus, "Heigh, Colonel Jake."

By the way the robberies and burglaries are not being abated. What is the reason? Did Lieut. Robert A. Foster get in bad when he raided a West Green street saloon and had protection from higher authorities? Was not the case continued for two weeks to get matters straightened out? What do you know about this?

It is rumored, and the rumor has all the earmarks of authenticity, that the police are too busy taking a political census to pay any attention to a little thing like a series of robberies.

National President Michael J. Ryan will call the convention to order at Fannell Hall at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. The Most Rev. Archbishop O'Connell will open the meeting with prayer. Gov. Gulliford will welcome the Irish envoy and other visitors to the State, and Mayor Hibbard will welcome them to Boston. At 8 o'clock in the evening National Secretary John O'Callaghan will deliver a lecture illustrated with stereopticon views showing the gaitor made for Ireland as a result of the United Irish League. On Wednesday there will be business sessions in the morning and afternoon, and the convention will close with a mass meeting at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The ladies who have assisted Mackin Council in preparing a welcome for the visitors deserve their medal of praise. For several weeks the daughters, sisters, sweethearts and wives of Mackin's members have been embroidering banners to decorate the convention hall, and the council is justly proud of their work.

Miss Ida Ralphy was Chairman of the committee, and her assistants were Misses Hattie Higgins, Mary Tierney, Mary Rieger, Cleo Charlton, Eva Ralphy, Florence Dally, Elizabeth Hawkins; Mesdames Kate Hill, James T. Shelley, Thomas D. Cline and Charles J. Rieger.

The committee in charge has looked after the comfort of the visitors by installing electric fans, equipping committee rooms, etc. Incidentally Mackin's club house was lighted with electricity for the special purpose of accommodating the Supreme Council.

The banquet at the Galt House Tuesday night promises to be a gala event. Eugene J. Cooney, Past President of Trinity Council, will be the toastmaster. James T. Shelley, of Louisville, will deliver the address of welcome. L. E. Mahan, Supreme President of the order, will come all the way from Eureka, Cal., to talk about "The Church and The Age." P. H. McGuire, of Pennsylvania, will respond to "Our Country." "Sail On" will be the slogan of State President LaVega Clements. J. B. Queen will talk about "Our Order on the Pacific Coast." John J. Keough, of New York, will have for his subject, "Organization." It is expected that other addresses will be made by Past Supreme Presidents F. J. Keefe, of San Francisco, and William Fogarty, of Indianapolis.

Supreme Council to Attend Mass Before Opening Deliberations.

Busy Business Sessions Will Occupy Great Part of Week.

FEATURES OF SOCIAL NATURE

All is in readiness for the Supreme Council convention of the Y. M. I., which will meet in Louisville next week. The Supreme Council Arrangement Committee has been at work for several months, and it must have things in apple-pie order. This hard working committee, which has labored so earnestly, has been presided over by Supreme Director James T. Shelley, who is also the first President of Mackin Council. His colleagues were:

From Mackin—Charles S. Ralphy, Secretary of the Committee; Ben J. Saul, R. W. Galway and Louis J. Kieffer.

From Trinity Council—Past President Eugene J. Cooney, Edward Wolff, William Hillerich, Andrew Keifer and John J. Sullivan, Sr.

Unity Council, New Albany—A. Ringenberg, J. M. Ashburner, Charles E. Preffer, John Martel and Philip Soegger.

The Supreme Directors are expected to arrive tomorrow, and will hold their session at Mackin Club House Monday. The convention proper will open Tuesday, and as there is so much business to be transacted the sessions will probably continue until Saturday. Of course there will be a number of social features for the entertainment of the delegates and visiting members of the order. All of the business sessions will be held at Mackin club house.

Tuesday morning the delegates will assemble at Mackin club house, and from there take cars for New Albany. Mass will be celebrated for them at St. Mary's church, and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Father George G. Borries, Chaplin of Unity Council. After mass the delegates will return to Mackin's club house to begin their deliberations.

The principal business on Tuesday will be the welcoming addresses and responses and the appointment of committees. The business sessions will continue on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and probably Saturday. The election of Supreme officers will take place either Friday afternoon or Saturday morning. San Francisco and Seattle are the most strenuous bidders for the next convention.

Supreme President Mahan has named James T. Shelley as a member of the committee on laws and revision, but on account of business duties Mr. Shelley was compelled to decline the honor.

From a social standpoint the entertainment of the visitors ought to satisfy the most fastidious. There will be an automobile excursion over the city, trolley rides, and on Tuesday night a banquet at the Galt House, and a ball at the same hotel on Thursday evening.

The ladies who have assisted Mackin Council in preparing a welcome for the visitors deserve their medal of praise. For several weeks the daughters, sisters, sweethearts and wives of Mackin's members have been embroidering banners to decorate the convention hall, and the council is justly proud of their work.

BRITISH SQUARE DEAL

One thing that may be said for the alleged spirit of fair play and square dealing among the British—they play no favorites. They have treated the Catholic church like they treated the athletes of the rest of the world by adding insult to injury. In Turkey, in Persia or in any semi-civilized country it is doubtful if the governments of those countries would have prevented a religious procession such as the Catholics sought to have in London last Sunday. A procession was held, but not in the manner originally intended. The Papal Legate, Cardinal Vannutelli, and eight other Cardinals will have nice reports to carry to their respective people. The insult to the Church came like a thunderclap from a clear sky.

Three thousand of the leading Catholic priests, prelates and Cardinals of the Church had assembled in London to attend the International Eucharistic Congress. The congress opened Wednesday and was to have concluded Sunday with the Blessed Sacrament carried in solemn procession. Just before the mass meeting Thursday night Archbishop Bourne, of Westminster Cathedral, received a message from Premier Asquith deprecating the proposed Sunday procession and advocating its abandonment. The Archbishop replied that he could not set on a private intimation, but the Premier insisted that the communication was purely confidential and must not be published. The Bournes are as old in family history as the Asquiths, and the Archbishop refused to be made a tool of. He insisted on a public request. It was then that the Premier replied that in the Government's opinion it would be better, in the interests of good order, to abandon the proposed ceremonial, the legality of which was open to question.

When Archbishop Bourne made the announcement the throngs of people cried "Shame!" But there is no shame in the English character. The intention to carry the Blessed Sacrament in the procession was abandoned, lest some insult might be offered. Otherwise the procession was carried out much according to the original plans. The crowds that packed the streets over which the procession passed and in the Cathedral were guarded by police, but there was little excitement and few insults offered the prelates.

The British Premier seems to be solely responsible for the insult to the gathered prelates. What will fair-minded Americans think of this latest display of English fair play?

SEES THE FINISH.

The Louisville Herald, which has been eminently fair in its discussion of things political, even though its politics are Republican, sees defeat ahead for that party in Louisville this year and next. In an editorial last Saturday the Herald said:

"The ceaseless tumult and squabbling among members of the lower board of the General Council must be put to a hasty end if the Republicans truly hope to continue in power longer than the term for which their representatives were elected last November."

This is very true as far as it goes, but the Herald might also have referred to the unrest in the upper board, to the Fulton street and Ridgeway alley matters, to the bickering in the police department and detective bureau. All of these troubles are helping the Democratic cause.

BRYAN AND POPE PIUS.

Some of the Taft exploiters are trying to arouse the prejudices of the Catholics against William Jennings Bryan with the story that Bryan was discourteous to Pope Pius because he did not call upon him when in Rome in 1905. As a matter of fact Bryan is a Presbyterian and under no obligation to pay his respects to the Pope. But those interested in maligning Mr. Bryan failed to report that he returned to Rome, sought and obtained an audience with His Holiness, and in his book, "The Old World and Its Ways," devotes an entire chapter to the Vatican and Pope Pius. His descriptions are all that the most fervent Catholic could desire.

THE STATE FAIR.

The State Fair this week was an unqualified success in every particular and surprised even the most sanguine of its promoters. If the present interest keeps up, and there is no reason why it should not, Kentucky's State Fair should soon rank with the fairs of Ohio and New York. The horse shows, the display of fine cattle, sheep and hogs, the racing, the agricultural and horticultural displays were the best ever seen in Kentucky. The firework displays at night were also good and the crowds day and night were larger than expected. Irish-American night also brought out a large crowd and all enjoyed the outing. The Louisville Railway Company did its part in contributing to the success of the fair by extending its lines and providing rapid transportation. Upon the whole the management is to be commended.

Every visitor to the Hibernian State convention and to that of the Ladies' Auxiliary was loud in praise of the treatment accorded the delegates while in Louisville. They complimented the people, the press, the hotels, the County Board and Hibernians in general for hospitality extended.

BIG EUCHRE.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. have arranged to give a euchre and social at the home of Misses Elizabeth and Bertha King, 1600 Bank street, next Thursday night. All the Hibernians are invited.

PASTOR COMING HOME.

The Rev. Father Stephen, O. M. C., assistant rector at St. Anthony's church in Jeffersonville, is spending a well earned vacation on a farm owned by the order in Southern Indiana. He will return to about two weeks.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

The following new officers for St. Edward's Sewing Circle, New Albany, have been elected to serve for a year: Mrs. Herman Fols, President; Mrs. Gia Weiman, Vice President; Mrs. Mary O'Donnell, Secretary; Mrs. Theodore Moritz, Treasurer. The Sewing Circle has raised something more than $1,000 for St. Edward's Hospital during the past year.

IMMENSE CATHEDRAL.

The Cathedral of Westminster, London, England, where the religious services in connection with the recent Eucharistic Congress were held, is much larger than the famous Westminster Abbey, the former Cathedrals stolen from the Catholics during the reign of Henry VIII. The new building is 300 feet long, 150 feet wide, height of nave, 117 feet; height of facade, not including turrets, 100 feet; height of campanile, 273 feet, and of cross on St. Edward's tower, 285 feet.

SOCIETY.

Miss Emily McTeer has returned from a visit to Hardinsburg.

Miss Margaret Shelley, of South Louisville, has gone to attend Vassar College.

Mrs. Walter Glover, who has been in Paris since July, returned home Sunday.

Miss Marcella Meagher has returned from a two weeks' visit to Chicago.

Miss Nellie McAliffe, of Parkview, has resumed her studies at St. Catherine's Academy.

Miss Nellie Leamy has returned from a visit to Miss Katherine Keegan, of Parkview.

Misses Cora and Virginia O'Meara, of South Louisville, have returned from Dawson Springs.

Mrs. P. B. Clancy and daughter, Miss Agnes, of 1225 Zane street, have retired daughter of Col. and Mrs. Scott Newman. The fortunate young man holds a responsible position with the Standard Oil Company's local office.

Capt. and Mrs. James P. Jacobs have arrived home after a pleasant trip to Niagara Falls, Buffalo and Canada. En route home they paid a visit to Michael Cady, a brother of Mrs. Jacobs, who resides at Havana, Ill.

Miss Blanche Shelley, accompanied by Miss Roberta Tucker and Miss Louise Shelley, left Sunday for New York. Miss Shelley and Miss Tucker will go to "Marymount," Tarrytown-on-the-Hudson, to school during the winter.

J. P. Kieran and family, who have made their home in Memphis during the past ten years, have returned to Louisville to reside. Mr. Kieran is the eldest son of the late Owen Kieran, for many years Treasurer of Division 2, A. O. H.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Cited
From Exchanges.

County Donegal is suffering from terrible floods.

John F. Maguire has been appointed Postmaster at Dunleer to succeed J. P. Scully, resigned.

Fires destroyed the entire season's crop of hay on the premises of Anthony Lisee, Ardagh.

The Ardee convent school was awarded first prize for lace tatting at the recent Dublin Exposition.

Miss Rosie McQuade died at the home of her brother-in-law, John Duffy, Castlehunney, after a few weeks' illness.

Anthony Swan, of County Louth, has applied to the Government for a patent on a process and apparatus for purifying steam.

Timothy O'Brien, a blacksmith who forged pikes for the Fenians in '93, '95 and '97, died near Newagh, and was buried at Taughaburn, near Long Derg.

Miss Maggie Breanen, one of the most beloved young ladies of Dundalk, died at the County Louth Hospital. The interment took place at Knockbridge.

Robert Mills, of Lisagowen, a well-to-do farmer and highly esteemed man, has been committed to the County Monaghan Asylum as a dangerous lunatic.

Mrs. Mary Brennan, widow of John Brennan, and about sixty-five years old, was found dead at her home, near Sherlagh. Death resulted from a stroke of paralysis.

Miss Viola Flynn, the thirteen-year-old daughter of J. J. Flynn, of the Hibernian Bank, Dundalk, at the risk of her life saved Miss Mary Spillane from drowning at Greencore.

In County Longford John McNally, who is believed to be insane, shot and killed James McKenna and seriously wounded Patrick Farrelly. McNally was still at large at last account.

The Dundalk dog show is said to have been the finest ever held in the country, and brought out 520 entries representing every breed from the Corgi of the Cork to the Glens of Antrim.

Patrick Conlan, thirty-five years old, was accidentally drowned in a pool near Sligo and in the townland of Glengaoole. The deceased was unusually popular in the community in which he lived.

The Rev. Father John Guiry, curate at Waterford, was accidentally drowned while bathing in the river at Tramore. He had recently returned to Waterford, after spending nine years in Australia.

Patrick Mulligan, Patrick Sloan, Thomas Grimes, Michael Gallagher, Patrick Duffy, John McGrath and Edward McCafferty were killed in an explosion in the Maypole colliery, County Mayo. McGrath is survived by a wife and eight children.

The Paulists are organizing companies of zoophiles, and all third-degree members are eligible.

Dallas, Texas, will have an exemption of the fourth degree on Thanksgiving day. The class will be limited to 200 candidates.

Only those Greek Catholics who recognize the spiritual supremacy of the Pope will be admitted to membership in the order. By this ruling members of the so-called Orthodox Greek church are excluded.

A picked nine from Bowling Green Connell played a team from the Bowling Green Elks a game of baseball Wednesday night and won by a score of twelve to eight. Manager Massey of the Knights has issued a challenge to any team in the city for a game.

RECENT DEATHS.

John M. Dalton, who had conducted a merchant tailoring establishment on Walnut street, between Second and Third, for several years, died at his home, Floyd and Walnut streets, Tuesday night. He fell victim to typhoid fever.

Mrs. Kate Harris, thirty-five years old, died at the family home, 1916 Eleventh street, Sunday evening, and the funeral took place from St. William's church Tuesday morning. The deceased is survived by her husband, F. T. Harris, a machinist, and three children.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Hanlon, who died at the home of her son, Capt. Jerry Hanlon, 132 East Market street, Friday night of last week, took place from St. Michael's church Sunday afternoon. The deceased was born in Ireland sixty-seven years ago, Capt. Jerry Hanlon, of the No. 5 Engine Company, is her son.

Mrs. Susanne Meffert, born in Germany seventy-six years ago, but long a resident of Louisville, died at her residence, 2212 Logan street, Sunday afternoon. The funeral took place from St. Vincent de Paul church Tuesday morning. Three daughters survive her. They are Mrs. Joseph Herrmann, Mrs. John Paul and Mrs. John Schucker. The deceased had lived in Louisville sixty years and was highly respected by all who knew her.

One of the oldest and most beloved Irish-American ladies of Louisville passed away Sunday afternoon at the person of Mrs. Agnes Hines, who died at her family residence, 1910 West Madison street. Her husband, Thomas K. Hines, a veteran Irish Nationalist and worker in the St. Vincent de Paul Society, two sons, William J., General Baggage Agent of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, and Thomas Jr., and a daughter, Miss Mary A. Hines, survive her. A large concourse of friends attended the funeral, which took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption on Tuesday morning.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Maryland, will celebrate its centennial anniversary on Wednesday and Thursday, October 14 and 15. This college, which is often called the mother of Bishops, was really begun on October 6, 1808, but the celebration has been deferred to suit the convenience of Cardinal Gibbons. The Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey was a student and a professor at St. Mary's before going to Rome as first rector of the American College. Father D. J. Flynn, the present President, and Father John Tierney, Vice President, are natives of Louisville.

UP WITH THE TIMES.

Five of the leading non-sectarian universities of the United States are now provided with Catholic chapels and chaplains. The Paulist Fathers have established lecture halls in connection with the State University of Texas and the University of California. Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, has provided a chapel and lecture hall for the Catholic students at Harvard; the venerable Bishop McNeely, of Rochester, has secured a $15,000 chapel for the students at Cornell, and the Catholic residents of Madison, Wis., have purchased a plot of ground for $10,000 and propose to erect thereon a chapel to cost $25,000.

PAULIST ENTERPRISE.

The Paulists have entered the diocese of Galveston at the invitation of Bishop Gallagher. They have three buildings in course of erection, a chapel, a residence for the priests in charge and a building containing a library, reading room, auditorium and reception room for social meetings.

MACLAULEY'S THEATER.

Two good attractions are promised for Maenly's Theater next week. The latest comic opera success, "Marigold," will hold the boards during the first half of the week. "A Stubborn Cinderella," a musical comedy of favorable repartee, will be given during the last three nights, and with a Saturday matinee.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

For the first time in more than twenty-eight years the Catholic Knights of America will hold their Supreme Council in Nashville, in May, 1910. The order was founded in that city more than thirty years ago. The Nashville Knights are raising funds to provide a suitable reception and entertainment for the delegates and visitors.

CENTURIES OLD.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal says that the library of the British Museum has acquired a manuscript which contains a treatise on shorthand. The manuscript, which is on vellum, refers to the tenth century. It gives the stenographic signs and their equivalent in Latin, and attributes the invention of shorthand to Tullius Tiro, a Greek slave of Cicero. Shorthand has been declared a modern art, but the old manuscript is another proof that there is nothing new under the sun.

PROTECT YOUR LOVED ONES

TO THE READERS OF THE KENTUCKY IRISH AMERICAN:

Every man has some one depending upon him, whether it be a devoted wife, prattling babes, an aged mother or young sisters, who rightly look for husband's or brother's strong-armed support. This is an obligation which the man, who is a true American citizen, always assumes.

You are, no doubt, fulfilling that duty; but have you provided for the loved ones in case you are taken from them? By the payment of a small amount yearly you can guarantee them a tidy sum if you die, or if you live provide for yourself in your old age. This is life insurance, and the insurance policy steps in and gives you protection you can not give yourself.

This protection is provided by the Citizens Life Insurance Company. It is a Louisville company, and operates under the Kentucky laws—laws that protect the interests of the policyholders. Its officers and directors are men who stand high in this and other communities. It has assets of over $1,000,000.

Let us explain this plan to you. It will take but little of your time, and the benefits will be great. Telephone or drop a card to the

Of the New Irish University Bill Treats All Religions Alike.

Eminent Scholars Are Heads of Catholic Branch in Dublin.

Old Trinity Will Not Be Changed as Result of New Enactment.

THE NEW BRANCH IN BELFAST

The Irish University bill, which has finally become a law by act of the British Parliament, is not all the Catholic hierarchy or the people of Ireland wish, but they take it with the consideration that half a loaf is better than no bread. The bill provides for three State-recognized universities, but will not interfere with the present University of Dublin and Trinity College. The second university will be a Catholic institution with headquarters in Dublin also, while the third will be in Belfast, and is intended for Presbyterians. Queen's College in Cork and the Catholic college in Galway will be tributary to the Catholic University in Dublin.

Maynooth College, where most of the Catholic priests of Ireland are educated, will be affiliated with Dublin's new Catholic university in the same way that Magee College in Belfast will affiliate with the new university in Ulster. The same conditions apply to both parties as far as religion is concerned. The Catholic and Protestant students will be excused from residing at the new university sites and may continue their studies exactly as at present, going to Dublin and Belfast only to take their degrees. Section 3 of the bill provides that "no test whatever of religious belief shall be imposed upon any person as a condition of his becoming or continuing to be a professor, lecturer, fellow, scholar, graduate or student of the universities." At the same time it is well understood that that one of the two new universities is to be Catholic and the other non-Catholic.

Ten gentlemen well and favorably known have been chosen to organize the new Catholic university at Dublin. Six of them are Catholics and four are Protestants. The Right Hon. Christopher Pulteney, Lord Chief Baron of the Irish Exchequer, is Chairman. He is a graduate of Trinity College, Dublin. Dr. Anderson, President of Queen's College, Galway, is second on the list. He is not a Catholic, but has always been recognized as fair to Catholics. President Whittle of Queen's College, Cork, is the third member and a Catholic. Other members of the commission are Prof. Jackson, of Cambridge; Sir John Rhys, of Oxford; Stephen Gwynne, an Irish member of Parliament; Mr. Boland, who represents County Kerry in Parliament; Sir William Francis Butler, and the Most Rev. Dr. Walsh, Catholic Archbishop of Dublin.
